

Myslovitz, A Few Mistakes Made By Good Parents

I'm oppressed by your own burden
And genetically determined
I feel weak and doomed to failure
I'm a shit to them
And I seem to lose, as always
In the crowd - I go unnoticed
Yes, I guess I am unwanted
See me fade away

And I always have my head shaved
I don't buy goods - I just take them
There is nothing I can do
Only evil things
I hate being kind and patient
As I love to cause aversion
This is how well I was bred, and
Frankly, I was not

What should I do?
What should I do now? - tell me
Pray!
What should I do today?
Tell me what?
What should I do?
Just try and mend one thing at least!
For a moment help me, please!

I have followed that example
Which you set to me so often
Thinking it's the best and only
Now I know it's not
I would love to be like others
All those pretty youths with talents
And if only I could try once...
But it can't be done!

What should I do?
What should I do now? - tell me
Pray!
What should I do today?
Tell me what?
What should I do?
Just try and mend one thing at least!
For a moment help me, please!