

Nick Carter, Superman

In a flash, he was running around, burning down to the ground
Everything in this same old town, never thinking what it would do to you
A selfish lie to your eyes made you cry, and had you falling from the sky
Masking all these feelings to make it through

Now I'm exposed, my armor's broke, can I still save the day?

I ain't nobody's superhero, but I can be your Superman
You might think your heart is kryptonite, but I'm the one who's drained
You know that all I want to do is rescue you from this burning place of pain
I ain't nobody's superhero, but I can be your Superman

Now my fall from grace was just a little late to rescue you
Dodging the speeding bullets to get to you
I guess there's nothing that I can do
But if I can take the criticism and the rocks aimed to hit ya
What if it doesn't weaken me
I guess there's nothing there left to prove

Now I'm exposed, my armor's broke, can I still save the day?

I ain't nobody's superhero, but I can be your Superman
You might think your heart is kryptonite, but I'm the one who's drained
You know that all I want to do is rescue you from this burning place of pain
I ain't nobody's superhero, but I can be your Superman

I'm yours
I'm only human, but I'm yours
I never thought I was a superhero

I ain't nobody's superhero, but I can be your Superman
I know you think your heart is kryptonite, but I'm the one who's drained
You know that all I want to do is rescue you from this burning place of pain
I never thought I was a superhero, but I can be your Superman
I can be your Superman
