

Nieznani, Pogoria

Słowa i muzyka: Valerie I. Lintott

"Pogoria" sailing free

With the wind calling her name

Bears across the sea

The hearts of those who love her.

Ref.: Oh, see her silver wake

Oh, see the stars

Sun and moon her friends

The sea's her home for ever

She lifts upon the waves

In an arrow of foaming white

Carried on so brave

To distant shores of freedom

Around the world and back

From the North Sea to the South

Follow all her track

And onward travel with her

The moonlight shines on her face

As she quests for the future ahead

Starlight spills its trace

Of diamonds' sparkling magic
