Norah Jones, A Song With No Name

do I love you too much do I hold you too tight have you had enough you shake me off in the night

if I had a gun if I had a knife if I had your love if I was your wife

if I go on my own and I see you in my dreams and I hope to again I have silently schemed

if I had a gun if I had a knife if I had your love if I was your wife