Norah Jones, September in the rain

The leaves are brown, came tumbling down, remember That september, in the rain The sun went of