

Out of Eden, Its Me

All of my life I've dreamed a love would come to me
It's here and now I know it's more than other love could be
I never though I'd know someone who loved me so
To go as far to die that His love for me would show
I searched all over but I still couldn't find Someone to give me love to heal my hurt and ease my mind
I sought affection tried everything new
Didn't even know that I was lost without a clue

Chorus:

You have opened my eyes to a greater love
You have opened my eyes to a greater love
I used to be so blind but now it's clear to me
How your love was displayed by what you did on Calvary
I've got to tell the world that they might hurt you
To find what I've found to really see how
You have captured my soul, you have made me whole
You have set me free 'cause I have given you control you have mended my heart and I have been redesigned
Lord with everything you are, you have been blowin' my mind

(chorus)

It's an eternal fantasy that will never, ever change

And you know He's rearranged my life

It's an eternal fantasy that will never go away

'Cause it's true R-E-A-L-I-T-Y

(bridge)

(chorus out)
