Overkill, Left Hand Man

Seems they got a runaround, a runaround where they stand

All over, yeah, all over you

Think they got an underground, an underground where they plan

Right under, yeah, right under you

Think you get the left hand

Backhand slap, then you're going to do your living on the downside

[CH]

God can't hear when I call

And God can't know, just when I fall

God can't see where I stand

So God can't be my left hand man

All I have is hatred when the fire fills my eye

Right under, yeah, right under me

And all I have is fate when the numbers fill the sky

Right over, yeah, right over me

Think I'll use the left hand

[CH] [BR]

Am I spent, layed-out got no more to see

With a locked down, tight clamp all over me

No love, just like before, am I one more, no more

Have I crashed, crashed and burned

Have I cashed in, not to return

Have I taken, taken my last ride

Do you feel what I feel inside

Over, over and done

Well I found something that I can't outrun

Watching, waiting, open the door

Am I one more, no more
