

Ozzy Osbourne, Mr Darkness (feat. Zakk Wylde)

Dear Mr. Darkness, I write you again
I've been so lonely, I'm needing a friend
Everyone tells me, you'll never reply
But I still try

My walls are covered with pictures of you
I fantasize that you're here in my room
Most days I wake up just wanting to die
But I still try

I give you my heart but you don't do the same
You tear me apart with a smile on your face
Your face
You don't even know my
You don't even know my name
My name

Dear Mr. Darkness, I write you again
This time to tell you, today is the end
I even shed a little blood on the page
Now it's too late
Gave me my twisted dreams and purpose in life
Maybe I'll meet you somewhere up in the sky
I've never thought that love could bring so much pain
I can't escape

I give you my heart, but you don't do the same
You tear me apart with a smile on your face
Your face
You don't even know my
You don't even know my name
Oh yeah
You don't even know my
You don't even know my name
Oh yeah
(Come on now)

And when you close your eyes at night, we'll be together
I'll be your shadow, yeah, you'll never get away
Yeah

I give you my heart but you don't do the same
You tear me apart with a smile on your face
Your face
You don't even know my
You don't even know my name
Oh yeah
You don't even know my
You don't even know my name
My name
My name
Oh yeah
You don't even know my name
You asshole
