

Ozzy Osbourne, Whole World Falling Down

I leave my son the legacy of dangers
The tragedy of synthesizing rhymes
The genocide that comes from total strangers
Apocalyptic dreams to kill mankind
I see the mystery unwind, my spirits telling me
The sky is dying and the whole worlds falling down
Dont buy your fate from media messias,
God gave you breath, don't blow it all away
I see the misery unwind,
You must be stupid or be blind,
My spirits telling me...
The sky is crying, burning holes into the ground
The sky is dying, and the whole worlds falling down
What did you see or don't you know
You only reap the seeds you sew
Oh no
I see the misery unwind,
You must be stupid or be blind,
My spirits telling me...
The sky is crying, burning holes into the ground
Messia's coming, but will he hang around
'Cause the sky is dying and the whole worlds falling down
Right!
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
The sky is dying, falling to the ground
