P.O.D., Eyes Of A Stranger

Can I touch you to see if you're real? Cause in nothing there's something I feel, Can my heart take the strain? Or will it break down again?

In your lips I sense a danger And you've got the eyes of a stranger.

Have I been sleeping for all these years? Is it magic that makes you appear? When I stepped in the room I felt my heart race But you acted rude when I looked at your face

In your lips I sense a danger You've got the eyes of a stranger In your lips I see a danger You've got the eyes of a stranger

You've got that look in your eyes Your eyes, You've got that look in your eyes In your eyes

In your lips I sense a danger
And you've got the eyes of a stranger
In your lips I see a danger
And you've got the eyes of a stranger
You've got the eyes of a stranger
And you've got the eyes of a stranger
You've got the eyes of a stranger
You've got the eyes of a stranger
You've got the eyes of a stranger
