Pearl Jam, Dead Man Walking

Sailing on my every step Inching off of the earth... It's magnified by the things I've done The thing that I've become

Every lift of my hand, Coffee cup up and back, Is magnified by the things I've done The things I've seen, the things I've caused, I'm a dead man walking.

The hammer that I once brought down now hovers over me. Casts a shadow, a cross/across onto me.

The hallways are all mocking me. What I've become they're all mocking me.

I'm a dead man walking. A dead man walking. A dead man walking. I'm a dead man walking. Dead man walking. Dead man walking.
