

Pet Shop Boys, I Made My Excuses & Left

I made my excuses and left

&quot;I'm all alone again&quot;

I walked into the room Imagine my surprise you were sitting close to him staring in each other's eyes

Each of you looked up but no one said a word I felt I should apologise for what I hadn't heard

A silence filled the room awkward as an elephant
In the crowded court of your love

I was now a supplicant

And clumsy as I felt at stumbling on this theft to save further embarrassment
I made my excuses and left

So long ago
I felt like such a fool
for crying
All that I know is when you feel inside you're dying
it all begins again
defying
your excuses
