

Pete Townshend, Man Machines

Man makes machines
To man the machines
That make the machines
That make the machines

Make a machine
To make a machine
And man and machine
Will make a machine
To break the machines
That make the machines

I am a war machine forged in the past
Jointly in several some of my past
I'd a war machine
I am your machine

I am a war machine hungry to gorge
On the steel and the crow the war mongrels forge
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

I'll destroy robots that take them and share
I'll eat the factories the cores in the air
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

Who will say love is fool proof
Who will say love is fool proof

I'll bring down fences tear up the skin
I will be solo preparing to win
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

I am the hedge to break your blade
I destroy weapons that you have made
I am a war machine
I am your machine

Who will say love is fool proof
Who will say love is fool proof
Who will say love is fool proof
Who will say love is fool proof

I'll bring down fences tear up the skin
I will be solo preparing to win
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

I am the hedge to break your blade
I destroy weapons that you have made
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

I consume more machines swallow them whole
If I am broken I still have a soul
I'm a war machine
I am your machine

Make a machine
To make a machine
Man and machine

Will make a machine
To break the machines
