

Picture House, Jade

(browne/glenister/maitland)

Jade you're a stone
And you woke up so frightened to find that you're sinking alone
But you're only afraid of yourself

Jade you're a star
But you're thrashing the house now you've found out your daddy's not home today
Jade you're a star
Counting out the money you made like a thief that's stolen the kings crown
And you know it jade

But you know tonight
When you lay down your head and you finally switch off the lights
You're only afraid of yourself
Jade you're a star
But you're thrashing the house now you've found out your daddy's not home today

Jade you're a star
Counting out the money you made like a thief that's stolen the kings crown
And you know it jade
You're a dangerous stone

This is my song this is what I say
