Pink, Lost Cause

Is it me?

'Cause I know that you noticed I hate kissing you with my eyes closed Keep 'em open and stare at your face making sure that your eyes close 'Cause I was never taught to trust somebody, nobody

Is it you?

'Cause you pushed all my buttons and turned yourself into a trigger And it feels like I'm stuck at a party without any liquor And now the music stopped and we're not dancing, there's no dancing

Oh, oh, oh Throw your sticks and stones at me

But don't tell me I'm a lost cause Don't tell me I'm a lost cause Say you're sick of my guts But don't tell me I'm a lost cause Tell me I'm a loser Tell me I'm a stranger You don't want to see again But don't tell me I'm a lost cause

I'm a bitch

A possessive and jealous love addict but, boy, you're an asshole And I'm tired of thinking that tragic's romantic, it's bad hope If all that's left to do is leave Don't twist your knife as you're walking away You could end lives with the words that you say

Oh, oh, oh Throw your sticks and stones at me

But don't tell me I'm a lost cause Don't tell me I'm a lost cause Say you're sick of my guts But don't tell me I'm a lost cause Tell me I'm a loser Tell me I'm a stranger You don't want to see again But don't tell me I'm a lost cause Don't tell me I'm lost cause
