

Plain White T's, Would You Even

Almost fell asleep on the drive home
I wonder if you would give a shit
Got all these demoed songs on my iPhone
And if I died then none of them would ever be hits

Hey
Hey

Can't believe you said that about me
You're always good at tearing me down
And now you're tryna call and say sorry
I guess I got no choice, now I'm turning around

Driving back to your house
It's almost daylight
I doubt these words will help
But I'm hoping that they might
And if I pour my heart out
Would you even listen
And if we end it all now
Would you even miss it
Would you even

Now I'm always keeping my guard up
I never can do anything right
You stole my heart and now it's all scarred up
You're pretty good at love, but you're better at fights

Driving back to your house
It's almost daylight
I doubt these words will help
But I'm hoping that they might
And if I pour my heart out
Would you even listen
And if we end it all now
Would you even miss it
Would you even
Hey
Would you even
Hey

Why do I do this to myself?
Why do I do this to myself?
Why do I do this to myself?

Driving back to your house
It's almost daylight
I doubt these words will help
But I'm hoping that they might
And if I pour my heart out
Would you even listen
And if we end it all now
Would you even miss it
Would you even
Hey
Would you even
Hey
