Quo Vadis, Mute Requiem (Live)

Over there lies the body Of false hopes and Unfulfilled desires It inspires only loathing

Silence, irony Becomes it's only testimony Contrary to the envisioned outcome And the desired result

Pity, this final outcry For sympathy Committed with such self-indulgent Finality, is doomed to failure So pathetic, unreversable and blind

Irony and contempt For the failed life Seems fitting of this mute requiem

Emptiness cries out my name Emptiness cries out my name In vain

As i turn my back and walk away Maggots, assemble To begin their song
