

Radiohead, I Froze Up

"okay, for anyone who's still listening
this is a song called I Froze Up
I did

What? Don't distract me."

You're the light wiping out my batteries
You're the cream in my airport-coffees
I don't know why I stick with you
If I had a choice

Like lambs into the slaughter
Like cows to the thunderbolt
You're the Genie of my lamp
I could have been anyone

But one day I froze up
But one day I froze up
But one day I froze up
Like this...

Oh, little boy...
Little boy, little boy
Oh, little boy...
Little boy, little boy

If you try to strangle the skylark
Try to cut it up, to see how it works
Stalactites and stalagmites
Rows of never open doors

Coz one day I froze up
Coz one day I froze up
Coz one day I froze up
Like this...

Colours won't (?)
Colours won't (?)
Colours won't (?)
