

Rag'n'Bone Man, All You Ever Wanted

No painted trains on the underground
No kids with spray cans jumping over fences
All the suits and the tues all march in a straight line
Deafening the sound of the helpless

It's a city of a thousand heartbeats
No room for another soul
Same building on a different street
But nobody knows

Tear it down till it's gone
All you ever
All you ever wated
Kill the lights while they're on
It's all you ever
All you ever wanted

Stand in a line for a hole the wall
Cause people still need cash to buy their freedom
Moving forward walking back
Everyone is dalling but we don't see tchem

A day away from a stroke of bad luck
Money's slipping right through the cracks
It's a shame how we don't know
What we really have

Tear it down till it's gone
All you ever
All you ever wated
Kill the lights while they're on
It's all you ever
All you ever wanted

It's all you ever wanted?
It's all you ever wanted?

Mine's the city with a city of a thousand heartbeats
We're just trying to keep a dream alive
New sign o an old strrt
I don't recognise

Tear it down till it's gone
All you ever
All you ever wated
Kill the lights while they're on
It's all you ever
All you ever wanted
