

Raining Pleasure, Dedication

Feel's like I'm getting older I'm not afraid all though I'm worlds apart from yesterday and yet I can't believe I'm old enough today to be in love, and feel in love and see if love is the way I don't need fancy places to spend the time,
I'm happy just to be here with you tonight and yet I'm not so sure the time is really right
to be in love, and feel in love and see if love is alright.
And you will sing
as long as there's a song the feelings never gone it was the first time to be in love Maybe tomorrow I'll never sing again but I'll remember when it was the first time to be in love
The pictures slowly fading and now it's gone, the letters we remembered are old and torn and although the time has passed the memory lingers on
to be in love, and feel in love
and know when love is gone
