

Randy, Superstar

Look at this fucking world, everybody wants to be on T.V.
Is five minutes in the spotlight supposed to make you feel free?
Anything goes, the price is high if you want to be seen.
Some people do just about anything to get their face on the screen.

This society treats celebrities and so called stars like fucking gods,
Even though the majority of them are fucking frauds.

They hear it on the radio and they gladly sing along.
They watch it on their television screens and they don't think that it's wrong.
That's right!

Look at this fucking world, people do anything to get on T.V.
A nose job and plastic breasts guarantees a place on the screen.
What kind of sick society can accept something like that?
Cos what difference does it really make if you are a size &&quot;d&&quot; or if yo

They hear it on the radio and they gladly sing a long.
They watch it on their television screens and they don't think that it's wrong.

They hear it on the radio, they watch it on there television screen,
They read it in the papers, they read it in the fashion magazines
And they don't think that it's wrong
That children act like sex symbols
And dresses like their favorite superstars.