

Reckless Kelly, Snowfall

One hundred and ten don't mean nothin' to me
I've seen forty below when the rivers freeze
But the ground here's bare
And the skies are clear
I'm packing my gear and I'm outta here

When the snow falls down
I'll be on my way
To a western town
When winter rolls around
I'll be half way home
To a mountain town
Where the snow falls down

I'm heading up north
For some peace of mind
Leaving my baby and my worries behind
I'm gonna find my freedom
Brother you should too

And if you don't do it now
You'll be one year older when you do

Yea, when the snow falls down
I'll be on my way
To a western town
When winter rolls around
I'll be halfway home
To a mountain town
Where the snow falls down
