

Reilly Maggie, I Know That I Need You

The days I have been without you it feels so alone without you baby those rainy days
The times when I think about you I don't want to live without you you're gone and I'm on my own No light shining on me now hear me crying
and I'm crying out for you
I know that I need you baby
I feel that I want you back with me someday I will hold you now here in my arms, in my arms again
I long for the day you'll call me I hope that I'll soon be with you baby just as before Maybe we can really make it baby we can climb a mountain high to reach for the sky
and I'm crying out for you
I know that I need you baby
it feels like you're here again with me I know that I need you now - in my arms
I know that I need you baby
I know that I want you here with me
someday I will hold you now
I know that I need you baby
I know that I want you back with me
someday I will hold you now
here in my arms, in my arms again
The days I have been without you
