

Rez Band, Thought I'd Never Love Again

I remember rolling thunder, I remember holding you,
But when the cold rain hit that pale grey stone, I swear my heart was buried too.

I thought I'd never love again, no, no,
I thought I'd never love again, no, no.

Take me back when days were lighter, let my sorrows be my friends,
In the mercy of each sunrise, I'll live in love that never ends.

I thought I'd never love again,
I thought I'd never love again, no, no.

I thought I'd never love again,
I thought I'd never love again, no, no,
Ooh, I thought I'd never love again,
Lord, Lord, I thought I'd never love again.
