

Rhubarb, Want Me Back

Do you want me back again
Cause i'm only doing time
Take me home again
Cause you're always on my mind

The more I buy of life I find
The more I fall behind
As precious as the time may feel
It's always passing by

Could you take me over there
If i leave my load behind
I can meet you anywhere
I'm not that hard to find

The more I buy of life I find
The more I fall behind
As precious as the time may feel
It's always passing by
When I give all I have to you
Watch me start to fly

If you want me
If you want me back again
I could leave this senseless
World behind me

The more I buy of life I find
The more I fall behind
As precious as the time may feel
It's always passing by
When I give all I have to you
Watch me start to fly
