

Richard Ashcroft, Why Do Lovers?

Come now baby
Stay in bed, dont think that its lazy
Get ourselves another God
Dont let them tell us there isnt one (Isnt one)
Stay, sweet honey
Lifes so fast, ya know it aint funny
Get ourselves another God
Dont let them tell us there isnt one (isnt one)
Like we are just skin
Can you be hold
Know beauty within'
Know beauty inside your body
You dont love any body
Why do lovers
Choose others
We circle, entwine one-another
In that mask that we wear with each other
Oh, my God how I looked in that mirror
I looked in a hollow picture
It was something I could frame
Thats right, sweet-heart
Lifes tough now, life can be hard
Dont blame me for these pressures in life
Dont blame me for this sacrifice (sacrifice)
OK, sweet-heart
Take your time, I know lovers they part
Time slows when youre in love
And time moves so fast when its gettin on (gettin on)
'Cause we are just skin
Can you behold
I know beauty within
Know beauty inside my body
I dont love any body
Why do lovers
Choose others
To mirror their pain, yeah
Slow down stranger
You know that youre in danger
These demons I've got they are major, yeah
Ready for you to lay it onnnnnnnnn.
