Richard Ashcroft, Why Do Lovers?

Come now baby

Stay in bed, don't think that its lazy

Get ourselves another God

Dont let them tell us there isnt one (Isnt one)

Stay, sweet honey

Lifes so fast, ya know it aint funny

Get ourselves another God

Dont let them tell us there isnt one (isnt one)

Like we are just skin

Can you be hold

Know beauty within'

Know beauty inside your body

You dont love any body

Why do lovers

Choose others

We circle, entwine one-another

In that mask that we wear with each other

Oh, my God how I looked in that mirror

I looked in a hollow picture

It was something I could frame

Thats right, sweet-heart

Lifes tough now, life can be hard

Dont blame me for these pressures in life

Dont blame me for this sacrifice (sacrifice)

OK, sweet-heart

Take your time, I know lovers they part

Time slows when youre in love

And time moves so fast when its gettin on (gettin on)

'Cause we are just skin

Can you behold

I know beauty within

Know beauty inside my body

I dont love any body

Why do lovers

Choose others

To mirror their pain, yeah

Slow down stranger

You know that youre in danger

These demons I've got they are major, yeah

Ready for you to lay it onnnnnnnn.
