

Richard Thompson, She cut off her long silken ha

Midnight in her room There was music and incense and mirrors all round By the light of the moon H