

Rides Again, Faces

Right now I try my best to see
The bright side of the darkest we can be
Can't tell right from wrong
Kill the weak to make you strong
Don't say fear is what we need
Don't try to challenge what I believe
I'll be the judge in who you say is my enemy
I've had enough now you won't take it out on me

Faces

So many faces
In far away places
But I feel alone

Changes

You promised me changes
The coming of ages
But I'm still alone
You say its better to ignore
Some say there's nothing worth fighting for
So we shut our mouths and hide our eyes
If no one sees them no one cries
Don't say fear is what we need
Don't try to challenge what I believe
I'll be the judge in who you say is my enemy
I've had enough now you won't take it out on me

Faces

So many faces
In far away places
But I feel alone

Changes

You promised me changes
The coming of ages
But I'm still alone
We are only stupid people
Voices faded words unknown
We are only useless people
Uninvited so alone

Right now I try my best to see
The bright side of the darkest we can be
The darkest we can be

Faces

So many faces
In far away places
But I feel alone

Changes

You promised me changes
The coming of ages
But I'm still alone
We are only stupid people
Voices faded words unknown