

Ringo Starr, I'll Still Love You

When every song is sung
When every bell's been rung
When every picture's hung up
I'll still love you

When every wind has blown
When every seed is sown
When everything is known
Then I'll still love you

You know I'll love you, yes I will
You know I'll love you, love you, love you
Always will, until

When every soul is free
When every eye can see
When people all agree
Then I'll still love you

You know I love you, yes I do
When times get so hard, you know
I'll be there loving you

You know I'll love you, yes, I will
Yes I'm gonna hold you, need you, love you
Always will, love you still

When every note's been sung
When every bell's been rung
When every picture's hung
I'll still love you

I really love you
