

Road Trip's Over, Good Time

Show me now what you really hide inside Maybe I'm a just blind man?
Maybe I have lost my mind?
Please, give me one more try and I won't fail you this time
It's not another love song or pathetic stupid poem
I just wanted ask you something to know what I did wrong
Now this song is kind of a letter to you I met you first time on summer '98 you looked so beautiful and I asked you for a date
I couldn't believe when you said to me "OK";
I remember all those nights like yesterday
I looked inside your eyes, you took me by the hand and you told me that you love me more than I have ever known

refren:

It's first time and last time
I saw you in bad time
Don't you know, that it's killing me
I love you, I hate you, I wanna be with you
But my brain doesn't understand it!
Everything has changed since you're gone away
You didn't even say goodbye, you didn't even care I tried call you on and on, you didn't even answer the phone!
and I wonder all the time what I did wrong where were the mistakes, it made me wrote this song but now I think this is just hopeless story of a hopeless summer love!

refren:

It's first time and last time
I saw you in bad time
Don't you know, that it's killing me
I love you, I hate you, I wanna be with you
But my brain doesn't understand it!
