Robbie Williams, Lost

I wake up Terrifying myself again Caked in makeup And a little lost These reactions Are relentless Abandoning The permafrost

Who am I fooling? Will I doubt it less? I disappoint them only to exist

I lost my place in life I lost my point of view I lost what it is to love When I lost my faith in you

A walk-up Of my masterpiece To the nothingness Greeting me Everything smells like Sympathy

Who am I fooling? Will I doubt it less? Much too exhausting only to resist

I lost my place in life
I lost my point of view
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you
I lost all hope
I lost my point of view
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you

All my friends say
"Don't give up yet
You must still get there"
But I don't think so

Ooooh, impress me (Try) Ooooh, impress me (Try)

I lost my place in life
I lost my point of view
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you
I lost all hope
I lost my point of view
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you
I lost all hope
When I lost my point of view
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you
I lost what it is to love
When I lost my faith in you
