

Robert Palmer, Hey Julia

(Robert palmer)

Hey, hey Julia, you're acting so peculiar

I know I'd never fool you in a million years

A horn section you resemble and your figure makes me tremble

And I sure would like to handle what's between your ears

You're a temptation to a man

I could not resist you and I won't if I can

You're so unexpected and whatever you injected made me feel how I felt when I sang

Hey, hey Julia you're acting so peculiar

I know I'd never fool you in a million years

You're a strain on my eyeses and you're full of surprises

Love materializes soon as you come near.

There's a sensation you create,

Robs me of my sleep and I've forgotten the date

My head started spinning soon as you started singing

And like a fish I just rose to the bait.

Hey, hey Julia with your crazy sense of humor

You turn fact into rumor soon as you come near

A horn section you resemble and your figure makes me tremble

And I sure would like to handle what's between your ears

You're a temptation to a man

I could not resist you and I won't if I can.

You're so unexpected and whatever you injected made me feel how I felt when I sang

Julia, you're a danger just like giving sweets to strangers

And I think it's time I took you in hand.
