

Robert Post, More And More

Cannot always get what you want
Should know that by now
Because these things are few and far between Cannot control all my fears
It often takes me by surprise
And all the things I want to do
Disappear in the face of what i have

Why do we want more and more
It never stops
It never stops

Freedom is when I walk alone
Can tell myself what I want to
And freedom lives in me
So I do what I want to
Yeah what I want to

Why do we want more and more
It never stops
It never stops

If you could read my mind
I know you wouldn't want to

Why do we want more and more
It never stops
It never stops
