

Rocket From The Crypt, Get Down

Last chance to get rich off this shit that makes me sick
You think you've seen it all, yeah you haven't seen shit you moron
Come on, you better look behind your back
You better turn around, you better turn around, you better turn around
You better say who's fault now, who's fault now, who's fault
You better get down before the heat starts to burn and make you melt
Last chance to get fucked off this shit that we can't trust
You think you've seen it all, yeah you're gonna see it again you moron
You better look behind your back
You better turn around, you better turn around, you better turn around
You better say who's fault now, who's fault now, who's fault
