Rocket From The Crypt, Get Down

Last chance to get rich off this shit that makes me sick You think you've seen it all, yeah you haven't seen shit you moron Come on, you better look behind your back

You better turn around, you better turn around, you better turn around You better say who's fault now, who's fault now, who's fault

You better get down before the heat starts to burn and make you melt Last chance to get fucked off this shit that we can't trust

You think you've seen it all, yeah you're gonna see it again you moron You better look behind your back

You better turn around, you better turn around, you better turn around You better say who's fault now, who's fault now, who's fault you better get down before the heat starts to burn and make you melt
