Rogue Wave, Lake Michigan

heaven is a switchboard that you want to fight she would even miss you if you taught her sight power politician leaning to the right baby's got a trust fund that she'll want to go off like that get off of my stack leave a little window get off of my stack now we wear same-colored yellow uniforms sky is burning but at least we know we're warm go and run yourself a million miles hoping that the colors run out and you go off like that get off of my stack leave a little window get off of my stack you can never see yourself ringing all around it no one is on lake michigan you labored on, lake michigan not another payoff get off of my stack leave a little window get off of my stack you know it won't do get off of my stack
