

Ronnie Milsap, Don't Take It Tonight

There's no easy way to ask you
To make believe everything's alright
Oh, my heart cries out in desperation, no, no
If you're taking your love away
Don't take it tonight.

Give me some time to talk to my mind
Try to convince myself
It's gonna be hard for me to hold on
While you're holding somebody else
Let me have from now til morning
One last time to hold you tight
Maybe we can love it over, all over
But if you're taking your love away
Don't take it tonight.

Oh, give me some time to talk to my mind
Try to convince myself
It's gonna be hard for me to hold on
While you're holding somebody else
I can feel the end is beginning
Fell you slipping out of my life
You don't know how my heart is breaking
Girl you don't know
If you're taking your love away
Don't take it tonight.

Oh, if you're taking your love away
Don't take it tonight.
Don't take your love tonight don't take it
Don't take your love tonight.
Don't take your love away, wait 'til tomorrow
Baby please, no, no
I'm on my knees...
