

Roy Drusky, My Grass Is Green

My grass is green the greenest you've ever seen
I know what I've got and I've got a lot with you
My grass is green and you're my favorite dream
And I won't look for greener pastures while my grass is green

There's new grass just next door but there's a fence of love between
And though my eyes may wander it doesn't mean a thing
The love that's here with me is just one happy endless seam
And I won't look for greener pastures while my grass is green
My grass is green the greenest you've ever seen...
No I won't look for greener pastures while my grass is green
