

Royal Hunt , Fear

Daylight is waving goodbye
Darkness is here throwing sand in your eye
What can you do, where can you hide?
I just wonder

Light in your room's turning red ready to find monsters under your bed Dreams just fall apart
Chill from the inside is touching your heart

Round and round wind of time's gonna follow you
Round and round stealing year after year
Every night it will overpower you
Every night - face your fear

Build your illusions to last Mercyless time's gonna turn them to dust
Over the years just look what all of us've done one to another as God to his son

Thousands of tricks up it's sleeve playing with you like a wind with the leaf Making you scream every day:
"Take me down - just take me away!"
