

Sarah Blasko, I'd Be Lost

Finally I found someone to call "My own"
When I thought I'd always be alone
Face is so familiar in this crowded room
What I'd do without you, I don't know,
I'd long for you

And I just so want to believe
And you've become a part of me, and I know

I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without... you
I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without you...

Finally I'm doing what I need to do
Such a feeling that I find in you
Laughing at the past as though it never was Letting go of what I thought I'd lost
Made a space for you

And I just so want to believe
And you've become a part of me, and I know

I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without... you
I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without you...

Without you

You're not just something to believe in, you've
Become a part of me, and I know

I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without... you
I'd be lost without
I'd be lost without you...
/2x

Without you
Without you
(I was running just as fast as I can to get to you)
Without you
(I was running just as fast as I can to get to you)
I'd be lost without you
(I was running just as fast as I can to get to you)
Without you
(I was running just as fast as I can to get to you)
I'd be lost without you
