Say Hi To Your Mom, The Pimp And The Sparrov

He timed it all just right for the sparrow's first flight but I said don't fly down there The world is such a scare

But he flew down anyway and got chomped like easy prey You know he should have listened fast that thought is just the past

At least I told him anyway hey hey.

Well out on Avenue A
The pimp flexed his gold chains
but I pointed out the rain
That it would rust them all the same

And like clock work did they rust And then he died of tetinas So I took his girl for mine And for him she does not pine

At least I told him anyway Hey hey. Twododo Do do do. Do do do do do do, do do.

Well the one thing that I wish is that the sparrow meet the pimp Oh yeah, in heaven in the sky. of a drop that cold my ties

And their stories they will swap And in horror they will stop for when they learn they both knew me And I offered them the plea

At least I told them anyway. Hey hey. Do do do do do. Do do do. Dodododo. adodo. Dododododo. Dododo. (the do do's continue)
