

Scars Of Life, Lemon

My thoughts
I hold back the truth that's unspoken
It keeps, pulling me down
As the seasons change within me,
I'm coming around

Its all these things I say to you
But feel nothing
Its all these things I say I'll do
But do nothing
There only empty words

Your head
Is filled with so much shit that's unwanted
Its surely, wasting away
Your first step on a path that's a dead end
I can't understand

I take, from you, a life you only wish you knew
The feelings inside you rage as you dream of the escape, this someone that you call yourself

Now, these chains are not made of you
Now, there's no one to hold on to Now, the hope has been drained from you
