

Scott Walker, I Broke My Own Heart

I broke my own heart, I thought that I was so smart.
You gave me a true love, and all I did was run around and the paint the town
but since you put me down, it's such a blue world
blue because I'm missing you girl.
Like a fool with a wrong scheme,
I was stepping on my own dream
You gave me all of your kisses and all of your love, and all I ever gave you was a hard time.
I was a fool because I didn't know, that true love was so hard to find.
I broke my own heart, but if we could make a new start, rain or shine please believe me I'll be true until the end Yeh well now I was a fool, so I had to fall, like humpty-dumpty sitting on that wall.
I broke my own heart, can't we patch it up again...
