

Scream Maker, Hell

For days I've been waiting
My eyes were following the sun
Staring into the future
Hoping that some day you'll be mine
Dreaming dreams of purest beauty
Did not realize that it all
Was not to come
Was not to come
For years I've been waiting
To fill my lungs with your breath
This vision let me live kept me alive in my faith
But now it is clear that I was misled
My faith was blind this life is not fair
Too late to be sorry no time for the tears
I'm forever here

(ref.) I never knew the place and the hour
But hairs on my head were numbered since my birth
I never thought the hope would kill that hope would bring Me to this place
And what is this place

Some call it hell
Some people call it hell
Without you it is really hell
I'm burning 'cause it is hell
Without you
