Selena Gomez, Crowded Room (feat. 6lack)

it started polite, out on thin ice till you came over to break it I throw you a line and you were mine yeah I was afraid you made it safe I quess that is our combination said you feel l\ost well so do I so won't you call me in the morning? I think that you shpuld call me in the morning? if you feel the same, cause

engulfed in the flames engulfed in the skame betrayed by your imagination on ove my head but that's alright so won't you call me in the morning I think that you should call me in the morning if you feel the same
