

Selena Gomez, Vulnerable

if i gave you every piece of me I know that you could drop it give you chance
I know that you could take advantage once you got it if I open my heart to you I know that you could lock it throw away the key and keep it there forever in your pocket if I gave you opportunity to you then would you blow it? it was the greatest thing that happened to you would you know it?

if my love was like a flower would you plant it would you grow it?
I might give you all my body are you strong enough to hold it?

if I show you all my demons and we dive into the deep end would we crash and burn like every time before?
I would tell you all my secrets wrap your arms around my weakness if the only other option's letting go
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable

if I hand you my emotions would you even wanna take it? if I give you all my trust then would you fumble it and break it? if I let you cross my finish line then would you wanna make it?
I think I am ready you come and flip the switch and activate it?

if I show you all my demons
would we crash and burn like every time before?
I would tell you all my secrets
wrap your arms around my weakness
if the only other option's letting go
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable

if I show you all my demons
would we crash and burn like every time before?
I would tell you all my secrets
if the only other option's letting go
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable

if I show you all my demons
would we crash and burn like every time before?
I would tell you all my secrets
if the only other option's letting go
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable
I'll stay vulnerable
