Sergio Mendes, Pretty World

Why don't we take a little piece of summer sky Hang it on a tree For that's the way to start to make a pretty world For you and for me

And for the sun we'll take a lemon bright balloon You can hold the string Oh can't you see that little world of ours will be The prettiest thing

We can gather rain enough for the stream
To hold our happy faces
When we want a breeze, I'll blow you a kiss or two
Take me in your arms and our little world
Will be the place of places
Nothing left to make but breakfast and love

We'll hang a little sign that just says Paradise Population two
For that's the way to start to make a pretty world For me and for you
For you
It's what I wanted to do, to do
To make a world.....for you
