

Shakira, Inevitable (English Version)

To be true I must confess
Making coffee I'm a mess
Don't know anything about football.
Been unfaithful once or twice
Cannot even win at dice
As for watches, I don't use one.
To be completely honest,
No one thinks of you
Quite the way I do...
It's all the same to you now.

To be true I must confess
I never sleep at twelve or less
Never take a bath on Sundays.
Since I'm telling you so much
I cry in earnest once a month
When the weather turns to freezing.
With me nothing is easy
Only you can tell
You know me so well...
Without you everything's a bore.

Chorus:

The sky is seeing a million raindrops fall
The hours seem to crawl
And every day that passes is just the same
Just like yesterday.

I can't find anyway to forget you because
To keep on loving you
Is inevitable.

I always felt that it was true
When we talk about us two
I should be the first revealing.
Sure you know what's going on
Nothing's better since you're gone
At least I'm still breathing.

And you won't be returning
Nothing left to tell

I know you so well...

What will I ever do without you?

Chorus

I always felt that it was true
When we talk about us two
I should be the first revealing...
