

Snow Patrol, Life On Earth

the first snow
the first winter of my life I WAS TOLD IT WAS THE HINGT OF ME the first dance well, the first one that counted felt like my bloods was built from crack lit lights all this ancient wildness but we don't understand the first sound of a heartbeat to riots roaring ohh

this is not love you've had before
this is something else
this is something else
this is not the same as other days
this is something else
it shouldn't need to be so fucking hard this is life on Earth
it's just a life on Earth
it doesn't need to be the end of you, of me
this is life on Earth

the first light first light on the silent shore just the ship set anchor me and you the way home this is always the way home so you can rip the map to shreds my dear but all we ever wanted to see miles and miles from here to the first days in a stranger new land we could be sailors

this is something else
